

Merging changes the weights before inference. It is not concatenating models or voting between experts.